

PRECARIOUS

ARE THE MARKETS ON THE VERGE OF LEVELS NOT SEEN SINCE THE NINETIES!?

The charts covered in Wednesday's Nightly Commentary showcase the dire straits that the markets find themselves in at the moment. The indices find themselves placed a few points north of levels, which if broken, could precipitate a move towards levels not seen the last decade.

In this issue of Purely Technical, we're going to provide you with only the charts from Wednesday's edition of Nightly Commentary. However, do not fret, you can access the entire commentary piece, as well as every other commentary piece, Stock Pick, Options Picks and Model Portfolio update for the next ten days simply by visiting the Members Area of our site, access to which is available absolutely free between the dates of Nov. 12 and Nov. 21.

Visit our home page at <http://www.themarketmessenger.com/> and click on the 'Members Home' tab and you will automatically be directed to the Members Area and can freely browse virtually all of the Members-only content, until November 21.

Yes, that's right! You can gain FREE ACCESS TO MEMBERS AREA simply by visiting our website and clicking on the 'Members Home' tab. NO strings attached. NO signing up required. NO credit card details or any other such hassle to be dealt with. A simple click of the mouse is all it takes.

We know that you're eager to check out the latest membership content, so we're going to leave you with a quick look at the recent progress of our Model Portfolio (as seen below) and the three charts from Wednesday's Nightly Commentary, which you'll find below the performance chart of the Model Portfolio.

Notice that our Model Portfolio has actually been able to show gains over the past year, despite the fact that the S&P-500 has lost nearly 45% over the same period!

That's it for this issue of Purely Technical. Don't forget to take advantage of FREE ACCESS to MEMBERS AREA for the next ten days...

Good luck with your trading!
